

Day 11

Applications of Cross-Layer Detection

Network Security: Combines network traffic analysis with endpoint data to detect and respond to complex attacks that span both network and endpoint layers.

Endpoint Security: Correlates endpoint activity with network data to identify threats that might not be obvious from endpoint data alone.

Threat Hunting: Utilizes cross-layer insights to proactively search for hidden threats within an organization's infrastructure.